Religiousness and Health Among Sexual Minorities: Lessons from LGBTQ Mormons.

09/04/2020

Rescheduled

September 29, 2020 at 9:00 am via Zoom

The Utah State Psychology Department and Dr. Tyler Lefevor present Religiousness and Health Among Sexual Minorities: Lessons from LGBTQ Mormons.

Dr. Tyler Lefevor is an assistant professor of psychology at Utah State University. He will present research from a study on LGBTQ Mormons and religiousness and health.

One-hour of CE credit is available for Utah psychologists.

Advanced registration is required.

Register Now

Dr. Lefevor is working to collect data for a new study on LGBTQ Mormons and is working to promote awareness of sexual minorities in the LDS Church. For more information click here.